Special Paper Prices For Canadian Buyers

The most important factor in the increased cost of paper in Canada is the increase in cost of labor. Canadian mills are exporting about 2,000 tons of paper daily as against less than 1,000 during the same time in 1914. All publishers will rejoice that Canadian mills are so prosperous. They deserve it, for many of them have been through most troublous periods. But it is quite fair to Canadian publishers who are the mouthpiece of the people of Canada, that this country should suffer in any way in order to supply our neighbors and many of them our competitors across the border?

In some big lines of steel, U.S. manufacturers have two prices, one for their home buyers, the other for export. The price to the home buyer is sometimes a third to half less than the price to Canadians and other foreigners. A Pittsburgh metal market report recently quoted bars for home consumption $2.90, for export $3.50. This has handicapped some Canadian manufacturers in their competition with U.S. manufacturers in the same lines. We think share holders in Canadian paper mill securities would not object—but rather encourage—the adoption of the same policy on paper in this country.—Financial Post.

Reduced Freight Rates

Farmers who desire to utilize their surplus cattle feed during the coming winter for fattening purposes are offered special inducements by the Canadian Pacific railway to add to their herds by a reduction in freight rates of the company on cattle returned from Calgary, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Moose Jaw or Saskatoon to county points.

Canadian Pacific railway officials announce that the reduced rates will become effective immediately and will apply to cattle intended for breeding, finished or feeding. This reduced rate is intended as an inducement on account of the fact that this year there is an unusual amount of grain in the country that will not go to mill and farmers will find it very profitable to use this for the production of stock for market.

These rates apply to all stations in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta except stations west of Commerce in Alberta, and only on cattle returned to farmers for breeding, finished or feeding, on production on signed certificate (particulars of which will be furnished by the railway agent bearing the signature of the local secretary of the U.P.A. and of the provincial secretary of the same organization.

Bostonians Coming

For twelve years the Bostonians have travelled over the globe bringing with them, merrily and happily, and leaving a lasting mark on the streets and a longing for their quick return. This season the company has a few new faces mingled with the old favorites. Australia has contributed three members of this charming organization. Mr. Charlie Bennett, the first young man to ever have an active part in the Bostonians' productions, is a native of Australia where he has been accorded recognition from the musical critics as one of the foremost tenors and an actor of considerable ability.

In choosing "The Rose of Honolulu," which is the bill announcement for this engagement Manager Lang was simply following out what the company and he had felt ever since their first visit to the Hawaiian Islands some four years ago. He saw at once the wonderful possibilities of the country and its music for the settings of a beautiful play. On their last visit to the Islands the company not only played a long engagement at Honolulu, but toured every island in this group. They learned the music, dances, talk, actions, hearts and everything pertaining to the people and then saw every inch of territory. At Opera Hall Oct. 18th.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maxwell, a daughter, Oct. 6th, weighs eight pounds.

British Sailors' Relief Fund

A Branch for the British Sailors' Relief Fund has been organized for Southern Alberta for the purpose of showing to a small extent the appreciation of the people towards the great work done by the men of the navy and Merchant Marine.

The idea of the fund is to provide for the large number of widows and sick and orphans of the brave seamen who have given their lives for the protection of not only the British coast, but Canada as well. The men of the navy have accomplished great things for Britain and Canada. Through their continual watchfulness all our ships have crossed the ocean with troops in an unbroken line. Our grain and merchandise has gone forward to provide food, clothing and munitions for the large army, and without the services of the navy this could not have been accomplished.

The fact is if it had not been for the services and devotion of the men of the navy, Canada would be today under the rule of the German flag, and would be in the same position as Belgium—to the navy therefore we owe our liberty, and every true Canadian should be willing to contribute something towards providing for the families of the brave sailors.

In undertaking to raise this fund the committee wish the hearty support and co-operation of every one, and that all will be willing to do everything in their power to determine what that every British sailor who suffers in the cause of the Empire and Canada shall feel that the hearts of his fellowmen everywhere in the world are with him.

The committee have agreed to raise at least $5,000.00 in Southern Alberta and currently hope that all who are asked to assist will do so at once as they wish to report to headquarters on Oct. 21st, the anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar when Britain became mistress of the seas. N. Holmes or the postmaster will receive contributions.

Churches Should Advertise

It is but in keeping with the trend of modern movement that the churches should begin to consider seriously the advisability of advertising as a means to prevent decreases in attendance at their services. The church has seen that it has to meet competition, and that it is to hold its people it must arouse, and keep aroused, their interest. It was typical of the change in sentiment in late years that Rev. E. J. Bishop should suggest to the Ministerial Association, Monday, that it undertake a general campaign of advertising, and it was also typical of the changing sentiment that this suggestion was not regarded as insurrectionary. The ministers feel that a crisis in church affairs has come, and they are willing to use modern methods in order to meet it.

Some may argue that it will cheapen the church if its attractions are advertised. Not a bit of it. If the church is good for anything it cannot have too much advertising. Every preacher, every evangelist, in fact every christian, is advertising, the churches every chance he gets. That is, if he is doing his duty. The use of the newspapers to advertise the church more fully is simply the utilizing of a means that is placed within the reach of the ministers. The press has taken the place of the mouth to mouth method of exchanging information and, when it can be used to a good purpose, advantage should be taken of the opportunity. The newspaper of to-day goes into the highways and byways as well as into parlours and parlaments. It is the universal vehicle for the spread of information, and if the churches fail to employ it, they must blame themselves; they do not justly intimate contact with the people.—News Telegram

A Message of vital importance to you who intend buying some Furniture:—

When you are needing anything in the Furniture line I ask you, as a resident of this district, to let me know your wants before sending out of town, for I positively guarantee to compete with the mail order houses, provided you give me an opportunity, and, in some cases, will undersell them. When you buy from the mail order house you have to take a chance on being satisfied with what you get, then you have all the handling of the goods to do yourself, whereas I deliver everything to your house or wagon, as the case may be, in first-class condition, and if anything is not right, I am here to make it right without the bother of writing several letters, and possibly a delay of several weeks before it is adjusted.

I endeavor at all times to carry as well assorted stock as the business demands, and I do give you the very best I can buy for the amount of money you wish to spend.

My policy is to please you, for it is the only way I can hope to retain your patronage, therefore, I ask you, when requiring anything in the Furniture line, to let me figure on your next order before sending out of town.

New Canada After War, Says Major Kerby

There will be a new Canada after the war, declared Maj. G. W. Kerby, in an address before the People's Forum, Sunday afternoon. The war, he declared, has swept Canada out into the great current of world life. There is with us today a deepened sense of nationality and an enlarged sense of destiny. Canada must face the new life with eyes wide open, brave hearts, clear minds and strong faith.

Canada's first duty was to back up the men on the firing line. The war age there was from 10 to 15 per cent, per month. Additional troops were needed as fast as they could be pressed forward. The word was continually coming for more men.

After the war there will be a new Europe, a new England as well as a new Canada. The Canada of tomorrow will be different from the Canada of yesterday.

Canada's contribution to the world after the war, was the title of Dr. Kerby's speech. This, he went on, should be "brotherhood." The contribution of the Canadian people should be a brotherhood as broad as the Pacific, as deep as the ocean and as high as the mountains.

Brotherhood in social and economic life would mean not only a leveling up of those who were down but a leveling down of those who were up. It would not tolerate a system under which a people was divided in halves. It should continually keep in mind the artificial barriers of race, nations and creeds. It would step over all boundary lines and unite mankind in a common humanity.

In all countries the people are united to be calling for reforms. Dr. Kerby declared. Some wanted social reform, others tariff reform and others political reform. Canada's need was a national ideal. Canada's ideal should be the brotherhood of the world.

Land Taxes

The Dominion Government is being appealed to by companies holding large tracts of land in the west, particularly American Companies, to put a stop to the taxation of their unused lands by provincial and municipal authorities. They complain that the general, tax and land tax, are endangering their interests. Possibly they are, and so much the better if they are. It is greatly to the interests of the provinces and municipalities to have all land under occupation. Land that is held out of occupation by speculators is a burden to the communities around it. However, the municipal and provincial governments will, for their own good, not tax land to land to such a height that nobody will desire to hold it. They will, for their own benefit tax the land lightly enough to leave a speculative margin of profit to the holder, as otherwise the government will have the land thrown back on its hands and get no taxes at all. The Dominion Government has replied to their request quite properly, that it has no power to interfere with local taxation.

Voice in Imperial Affairs

After the war Canada will no doubt have a voice in imperial affairs. Bonar Law, leader of the conservative party in Great Britain, said a short time ago, regarding the overseas dominions of the Empire:

"Now, these great dominions are, in fact, independent states. We could not have compelled a single one of them to send a man or contribute a penny, but they have sent their best, not so much to help us as to help the empire of which they are part."

"These conditions can never occur again. It requires great good will and good sense on the part of both the dominions and the authority at home to enable an arrangement to be worked by which one set of men should contribute their lives and treasure and should have no voice as to the way in which these lives and that treasure should be expended. (Heard, hour.)"

"The cannot continue. There must be a change. (Cheers.) The war has done more, I believe, than most generations in other circumstances could have done in uniting the empire. The people of this country are prepared to accept any system of closer union which the dominions may desire to see adopted."

No Serious Desire to Change British Free Trade System

Hemar Greenwood, M.P. for Sunderland, England, and a native of Whitley, Ont., stated last night that there does not appear to be a serious desire to change the British fiscal system from free trade to protection.

"The onus is upon those who desire a fiscal change, to prove that it would be advantageous to the Empire what ever changes there may be will only be specified lines which war experience make necessary. Righteous indignation against Germany and all its works is greater than the wish for prohibitive tariffs. Free trade England is stronger financially than any of the protectionist belligerents. In all this there be no mistake. The British people, who are more the deepest emotions by the support from overseas, are quite prepared to meet the dominions. But as I understand the protected interests in the dominions, they are not prepared to give British goods equal concessions."

Sir Hemar added that he had, since his arrival in Canada, both heard and read a good deal of annual criticism of Great Britain's tariffs and conduct in the war. "As one who knows the Mother Country and the dominions intimately, I am tired of hearing this fault finding with the Old Country. She deserves no reproach from any overseas dominion and she remains and will continue to remain the predominant factor in Imperial affairs. In the war she has made sacrifices incomparably greater than the dominions have yet made or of which the people in the dominions realize."

Sir Hamar added that the question of adjustment of the tariff and of colonial contribution would have to be settled by the next Imperial Conference, to which the leaders of the dominions as well as the prime minister should be invited to insure a continuity of policy and so raise these things above party politics.

School Notes

By the School Correspondent

Holidays are certainly good for High School students. The most of them went to sleep Wednesday night and are not wholly awake yet.

The first meeting of the Literary Society is to be held Friday, Oct. 20th. The Hamburg-Hollingshead announced last week it is to be held in the Town Hall and not in the school hall as stated.

School was closed from Wednesday last till Tuesday of this week while the teachers were in attendance at the convention at Lethbridge. According to reports this was a very successful convention and we are pleased to note the honor conferred on Claresholm by the election of our Principal Mr. Macleod, to the position of Vice President for 1917 of Claresholm, Macleod and Lethbridge Associations.

Alfred Edlund and Willard Haig have returned after competing at Red Deer for W. C. T. U. medals. They are to be congratulated on the high standing they attained, winning second and third places, even though failing to attain highest honors.

Owing to the condition of the roads the basketball and football teams have had to postpone their trip to Macleod. It is expected that the trip will be made on Saturday, Oct. 20th. The teams will be led by Coach. The gentlemen who had so kindly donated their cigs for the previous occasions can arrange for that date. Both teams are practicing hard and regularly and will give a good account of themselves in the prospective competition.

While at Lethbridge initial steps were taken by the principals of Picher Creek, Macleod and Claresholm to form an inter-scholastic league to govern all inter-school sports. Mr. Macleod, principal of Claresholm school, was delegated to write to Okotoks, High River and Nanton inviting them to join.

The object is to form a four or six team league. Elimination series will be played so that the minimum amount of expense will be involved. The teams from adjoining towns will play home and home games. The winners will play off at some intermediate town, making a maximum of three trips for each season. The plans are comprehensive but easily workable.

The representatives of the schools involved are enthusiastic over the prospects which cannot but be of benefit to both the towns and schools involved.
